

ROUND 17: design names

Day 1: Tuesday, June 20 (Posted June 19)

Players Still In Contention: 1800+ People

What are the rules?

This round is dedicated to the lovely names the designers give the cards. These names are often silly but always give some clue as to what the card does. Each day I will give a card's design name and the card set the card ended up printed in. I am looking for what the card was eventually named.

yesterday's daily winner

Bad Monkey

The daily winner receives a random promotional card. Any player can be a daily winner, regardless of whether they are still in contention for this round's grand prize.

Players who are not in contention for this round's grand prize should email trivia@wizards.com to answer today's question.

today's question

Endangered Species Act (Weatherlight)

This question must be answered by Wednesday, June 20, 4:00 pm PST.

yesterday's question with answer

God's Angry But Picky (Tempest)

Answer: Winds of Rath. The name comes from the fact that Winds of Rath is a variant on Wrath of God.

players still in contention

(We had over 1800 correct answers for Day 1, so we're still entering the people's codenames. If you answered correctly for Day 1, you are in contention for the big prize and should send your answer to qmark@wizards.com. Otherwise, send your answer to trivia@wizards.com for a shot at the daily prize. Answers sent to either e-mail address are eligible for the daily prize.)
