Artist-Designed Kami

Magic Arcana
 Tuesday, June 28, 2005

In most cases, a Magic card's art description provides the artist with a specific set of instructions on how the spell effect, land, creature, or what-have-you should look. Some such descriptions contain multiple paragraphs of details for the artist.

But other art descriptions leave a lot up to the artist. The otherworldly spirit creatures of Saviors of Kamigawa provided many opportunities for self-directed artist experimentation. Can you name these Saviors spirit cards from their art descriptions? Click the links below each one to reveal the answer.

Action: Show a colossal kami of your design that is made up of eight intertwined smaller kami. The smaller ones could look something like the ones in art ID 82654. This huge kami is a manifestation of nature's adaptability -- when in danger, the kami can separate into 8 smaller kami, who can then re-form the larger kami.

Focus: The towering kami of all seasons

Mood: Nature at its most awe-striking.

Action: Show a flying kami of your design that represents shrieking before death. Maybe a disembodied female head with disproportionately large open mouth, for example.

Focus: The horrible kami

Mood: The most terrible sound imaginable.

Action: This is a legendary kami spirit of retribution. What it looks like is up to you. This is a spirit covered in Japanese armor that has the ability to grow bigger and bigger. Show it about 10 feet tall, shaped roughly like a huge samurai in full regalia, but its body should be made completely of energy and covered with weapons and armor.

Focus: The great kami of retribution

Mood: A sacred instrument of justice made of steel and magic.

Action: This is a huge kami that lives under the surface of the earth. From a point of view high above the ground looking down, show this bizarre earthquake kami pressing upward on the surface of the earth. Where its features can be seen, lines of deep red-orange fire erupt from the surface. (The fire is important and must be included.) If possible, show some indication of humanoids running from this fiery manifestation on the surface of the earth.

Focus: The vast earthquake kami trying to push through the earth's surface

Mood: An angry awakening.

Action: Show a blue-aligned "energy-ghost." This is a spirit-world "entity" that can manifest as a creature or a spell. Its shape is up to you, but it should be 6 feet across or so and its body consists of a mass of blue fire. The creature's eyes should be visible in the fire. It should be shown flying.

Focus: the blue-aligned "energy-ghost"

Mood: Fast, bright, not of this world.
