Ravnica Sketch Choices

Magic Arcana
 Tuesday, October 11, 2005

Once a Magic artist has read the art description of a card-to-be, his or her first job is to submit one or more sketches of his or her vision of that art description. When the artist submits more than one, it's the job of the Magic art director to choose which direction would look best on the finished card.

How closely does your artistic eye match the art director's? Can you tell which of these submitted sketches ended up on the finished Ravnica card?

For each pair of sketches, decide which one ended up on the finished card. Click one side or the other to reveal whether you guessed right.
