Populating the Twister

Magic Arcana
 Monday, March 20, 2006

Soon to booster-crack Limited players everywhere, the Mirage reprint Savage Twister has found a new home in Guildpact aligned with the Gruul guild. The card got new art for its Guildpact printing to reflect the Ravnica setting, starting with this initial sketch by Luca Zontini:

We definitely have a wrecking-ball of a twister here, savagely destroying a Ravnica district. But this spell kills creatures, not lands -- so Luca was asked to add in some people getting menaced by the twister.

Savage Twister sketch by Luca Zontini

Here's a second look. Oh, how easy it is for a citizen of Ravnica to get into mortal danger -- all it takes is for someone on the creative team to say, "Needs more people." Actually, even after this sketch, the number of people wasn't considered to be enough. Remember that, in gameplay, this spell routinely wipes the board clean, or leaves behind only the beefiest and sturdiest of beasts.

Let's take a look at the final art.

Now that is a savage twister. Run, little Ravnican citizens, run!
