

Gen Con was the backdrop for the 2006 Legacy and Vintage Championships.

Crowning Eternal Champions

Ted Knutson

Thursday, August 24, 2006

- Ted Knutson Archive

Legacy Championship

On Friday, August 11 one man stepped to the forefront to claim the title of best "Eternal" player in the world. Who was this masked man and how did he become the first person ever to hold the titles of Vintage and Legacy World Champion at the same time? Read on, my friends, read on. Click here for full article

Vintage Championship

So you want some Gen Con Vintage coverage, do ye? Alright then, I'll give ye just that. However, a warning before we get started – this here coverage is not for the faint of heart. In peaceful times, Vintage players had a gentlemen's agreement that they just don't play many combo archetypes against each other. At Gen Con, that agreement was broken, and subsequently very broken things did happen. Blood was spilled. Women went screamin' in the streets, and children who witnessed the carnage will have nightmares for years ta come. Click here for full article

Alternate Art Framed Mox Pearl trophy, the 2006 Vintage Championship prize.