 Monday, October 30, 2006

UnCon is the online convention run by and for Wizards community. Every year it cranks out virtual tonnage of games, contests, tournaments, roleplaying, and up-close-and-personal interaction with your favorite gaming deities.

This year's UnCon was no different. In one Wizards message boards thread, Pete Venters took requests for quick Magic-themed sketches, and then took it upon his mighty Sharpie to blast out an even ten of them for UnCon participants to enjoy.

Missed UnCon? Missed your chance for Pete Venters to draw your favorite Magic beastie? We recommend you tune in to next year's UnCon. In the meantime, check out the sketches from this thread! (Click the "Show" button in the thread to see each sketch!)
