How does playing with and competing for Invasion/Planeshift/Apocalypse on Wizards' dime sound? On April 7 and April 8, hundreds of MagicOnline players in two different championship events will be doing exactly that! Over the next two weeks, MagicOnline will be hosting a series of sixty-four IPA Qualifier events, featuring both Limited and Constructed formats. The Top 8 players from every single one of those events will win invitations to one of two different Invasion/Planeshift/Apocalypse Sealed Deck tournament, where they will get to compete for free(including the sealed product to build your deck) to win coveted Invasion/Planeshift/Apocalypse booster packs.

As if that's not enough, all participants in the qualifier events will receive a Hazon Tamar online promo card, while the Top 8 from each qualifier will receive a premium version of the Hazon Tamar online promo card.

So come join us for two weeks of competition in the 2nd 2007 IPA QT series on MagicOnline. While I won't go as far as saying this will be that last IPA event we'll run on MagicOnline 2, with MagicOnline 3 in beta, there is a good chance that this is, in fact, the last IPA QT series on the v2 platform.

To find out more, go read the fact sheet here, and then check the event schedule here. We'll see you online, and good luck!
